Command Alkon Announces a New Division

Birmingham, AL – October 3, 2011: Command Alkon, the leader in integrated solutions for the global construction materials industries, and KP Consulting, the leader in software solutions for the Ready Mix industry in Brazil, are pleased to announce the formation of KP Consulting, a Division of Command Alkon.

As part of the agreement, Command Alkon acquires KP Consulting. KP Consulting is headquartered in São José do Rio Preto, São Paulo, Brazil, and delivers dispatch and quality control solutions to ready-mix producers. With more than 10 years of experience and 25 employees, KP is the market leader in production and distribution software solutions in Brazil.

“This business combination will provide global industry solutions and local, cost effective service to our customers in the region. We are pleased with the opportunity to work with all of the KP Consulting employees as they have established a strong track record of success.” said Phil Ramsey, President of Command Alkon.

Command Alkon and KP Consulting customers will benefit greatly from the combined resources and the latest in technological advances from both companies and will have access to the best technological solutions to the worldwide construction materials industry. Both the KP Consulting and the Command Alkon product lines will continue to be extended and supported. Each product line has an existing customer base with unique needs that both companies will continue to provide for now and into the future.

“The union with Command Alkon will anticipate our presence in the international market and will also offer products that our customers have requested, such as aggregates, asphalt, cement and plant automation. We are honored by the trust invested in us regarding the operations in Mercosur from the early stages. Our products and professionals will keep on developing our products, now using all the knowledge provided by Command Alkon.” said Kleber Rodrigues Jr, Director of KP Consulting.

Command Alkon is headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama with offices in Colombia, the UK, France, the Netherlands, Australia, India, Brazil and North America. Command Alkon has been a long-term, financially stable provider to the construction materials industry for over 35 years.
