Command Alkon Named to Software Magazine's 28th Annual Software 500

Birmingham, AL – September 30, 2010: Command Alkon, a global leader in integrated solutions for the construction and bulk materials industries, is pleased to announce its inclusion in Software Magazine's Software 500 ranking of the world's largest software and service providers, now in its 28th year.

Command Alkon was ranked 244.

"This is our 14th consecutive year of being ranked among the top software companies worldwide. Command Alkon will continue its growth through product and geographic diversity. We are pleased to represent the construction and bulk materials industries within these rankings," says Michael Wilson, Corporate Marketing Director for Command Alkon.

"The 2010 Software 500 results show that revenue growth in the software and services industry was healthy, with total Software 500 revenue of $491.7B billion worldwide for 2009, representing virtually flat growth from the previous year," says John P. Desmond, editor of Software Magazine and Softwaremag.com.

The Software 500 is a revenue-based ranking of the world's largest software and services suppliers targeting medium to large enterprises, their IT professionals, software developers and business managers involved in software and services purchasing.

The ranking is based on total worldwide software and services revenue for 2009. This includes revenues from software licenses, maintenance and support, training and software-related services and consulting. Suppliers are not ranked on their total corporate revenue, since many have other lines of business, such as hardware.

Command Alkon is a Birmingham, Alabama based company with offices in Columbus, Ohio, Kansas City, Kansas, Chicago, Illinois, the UK, France, the Netherlands, Colombia, and India. Command Alkon has been a long-term, financially stable provider to the construction materials industry for over 35 years.
